Black, White, & Red Theme

American abstract expressionist painter Hans Hofmann said that "The whole world, as we experience it visually, comes to us through the mystic realm of color." We identify the colors of red and green with Christmas, orange and black with Halloween and white with weddings. The colors we respond to have emotional connotations we carry with us throughout our lifetimes. The black, white and red that represents William Carey University reminds us of our sports uniforms, the swirl of Crusader cheerleader pom-poms, the casual t-shirts of C-Red Day, the traditional faculty march at Convocation, and the ornamental graduation caps and gowns. Michelle Porciello, the editor of the 2012-2013 yearbook, chose "Black, White and Red" as the theme to represent not only your experience at Carey, but the multiple experiences we all share as a campus community. It is our prayer that you were blessed by your time at Carey and that in the future you remember your alma mater fondly and with pride. May God's abundant grace be yours always. May your "whole world be filled with the mystic realm of color."

In His Name,

Jeanna Graves, Yearbook Advisor
Michelle Porciello, Yearbook Editor

William Carey University Alma Mater

William Carey, we will love thee,
Loyal we will be;
And we will sing thy praises;
Hail, all hail to thee.
Lifting high the light of knowledge,
Answering the clarion call.
Thou hast made thy sons and daughters
Staunch crusaders all.
Thou hast taught us love and honor,
Taught us truth and right.
While fitting every new crusader
With thine armor bright.
May the God, who made thee worthy,
Keep thee ever truly free;
May His Spirit, Alma Mater
Ever dwell with thee.

Hebrews 6:1

Therefore let us move beyond the elementary teachings about Christ and be taken forward to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from acts that lead to death, and of faith in God...

William Carey University President

Dr. Tommy King

Dear Readers,

The Bible theme for 2012 - 2013 was Hebrews 6:1 which tells us "Let us...go on to maturity." The writer of the Book of Hebrews says, "Therefore, let us leave the elementary teachings about Christ and go on to maturity." The school year challenged students to do just that and so much more. Our prayer for you is that when you leave your alma mater, you leave a complete person. Our desire is that you have fulfilled your potential in scholarship, leadership and service, and determine to always grow in your walk with our Father. William Carey University is a special place and your time here has contributed to that legacy, a legacy of excellence and dedication to continued quality, Christian education. As you mature, we hope that you will look back fondly on your alma mater and the friends you made here.

In His name,

Dr. Tommy King

Mr. & Miss William Carey University

Fernando Garcia Vega &
Hannah Brown Holland

Fernando Garcia Vega of Metepec, Mexico, and Hannah Brown Holland of Columbus were recently named Mr. and Miss William Carey University 2013. Mr. and Miss WCU are voted on by the student body as students who best represent the values of the school.

Vega is a senior business administration major and mathematics minor who plays center for the Crusaders Men's Basketball Team. At WCU's 2013 Honors Convocation, he was awarded the Student Leadership Award and recognized for being named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Holland is a senior elementary education major with concentrations in math and English who currently boasts a 4.0 GPA. Holland served as the 2012-2013 Baptist Student Union president and is a member of Alpha Chi National College Honor Society. She is a Carey Scholar, was elected as Class Favorite her freshman and senior years, and was on the President's List for four consecutive years.

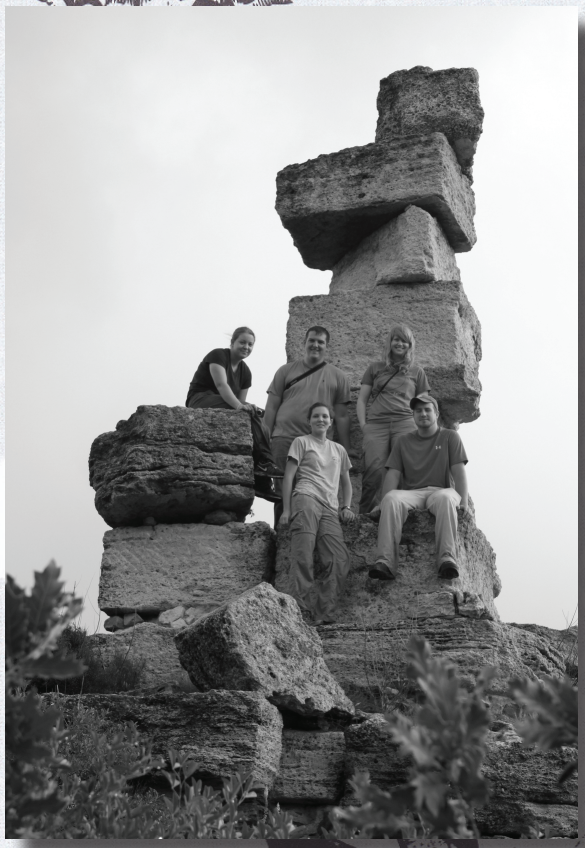
Trip to Turkey

May 25, 2012



Dr. Daniel Browning sponsors the Study Travel and Excavation Program every year. STEP combines intensive student-oriented study travel in Biblical Lands with participation in the archaeological excavation of a Biblical site. A typical program includes an extensive travel program in Israel, preceded by a brief visit to another country with Biblical associations, and followed by three or four weeks at an archaeological dig in Israel. Because of the political situation, STEP has not included travel to Israel or an excavation experience in recent years. In 2012, students studied in Turkey and Jordan.

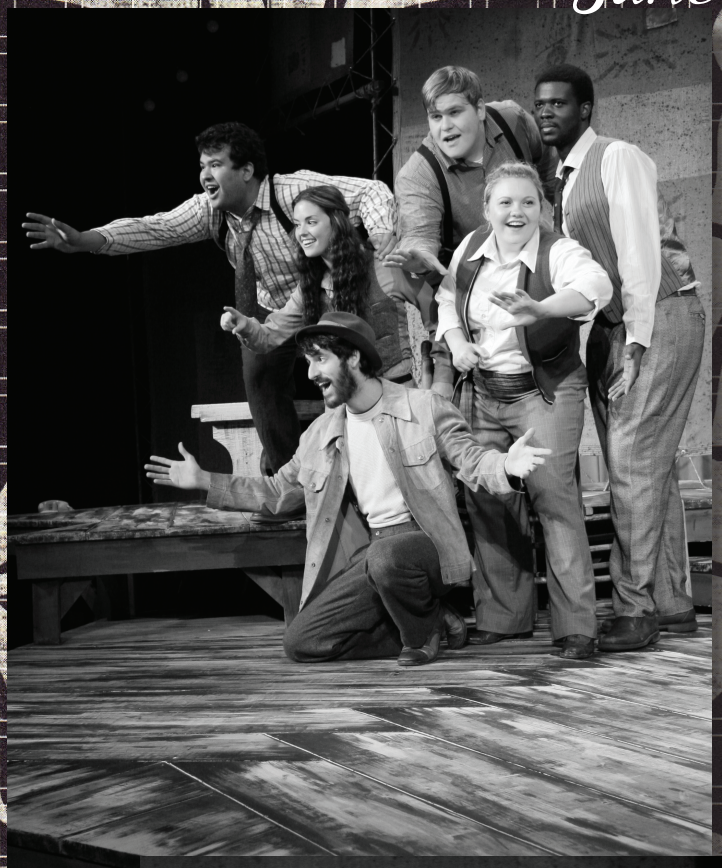
Cotton Patch Gospel

June 2012



Carey Dinner Theatre (CDT) presented a contemporary retelling of the gospel "Cotton Patch Gospel" and the folk musical "Sing Out, Sweet Land!" for its 37th season. Written by Walter Kerr, "Sing Out, Sweet Land!" was a musical journey through early American folk music, dance, and life as seen through the eyes of Barnaby Goodchild, a Puritan lad cursed to sing and dance for all eternity. Barnaby embodies the youthful spirit of early American life. "Cotton Patch Gospel" was set in contemporary Georgia and retells the life of Jesus. Since its founding in 1975, CDT employees a cast and crew every summer and presents what has become known as Mississippi's "unique dinner theatre." Corporate sponsor W. A. Warren Asphalt Paving Contractors and co-sponsor Regions Bank support the 37th season of CDT.

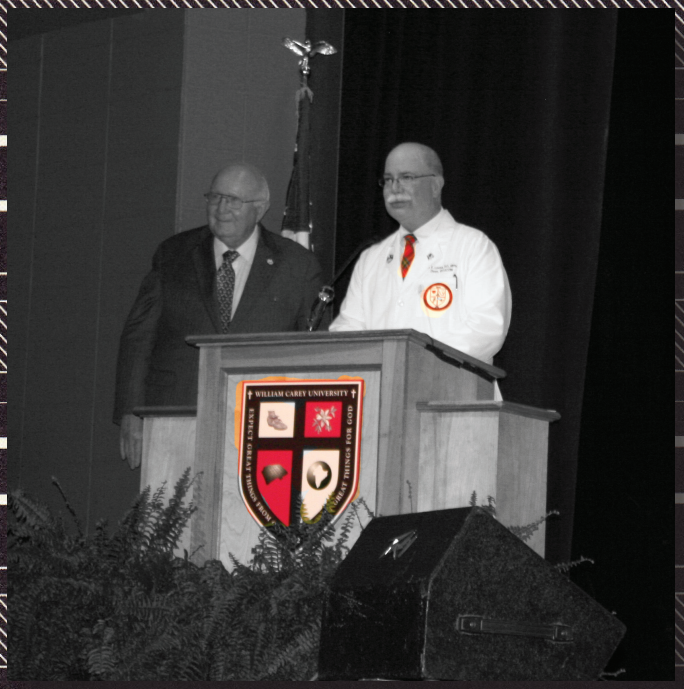
Osteopathic Medical Student Oath

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter. I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgement and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery. I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and never by word or by act cast imputations upon them. I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who are teaching me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the priniciples of osteopathy which were first enumerated by Andrew Taylor Still.



The White Coat Ceremony

The White Coat Ceremony is an auspicious experience as students enter osteopathic medical school. In the presence of family, guests, and faculty members, students are welcomed into the medical profession by leaders of the College of Osteopathic Medicine and the Mississippi Osteopathic Medical Assocation. Each student will be congratulated and ceremonially "cloaked" with their white coat. Then, dressed in white, they stand to take the osteopathic oath of commitment, traditionally sworn at graduation.

Remembering Dr. F. Ralph Noonkester & Mrs. Naomi Noonkester

September 30, 2012

William Carey President Emeritus Dr. F. Ralph Noonkester (1924-2012) served as president of Carey for 33 years from 1956 until 1989. Dr. Noonkester arrived in 1952, serving first as a professor of Bible and dean of the college, and then became president in 1956. At age 32, Dr. Noonkester was the youngest college president in the United States. When Dr. Noonkester assumed presidency, 314 students were enrolled, only six buildings stood on the Hattiesburg campus, and three degree programs with 20 majors were offered. During his presidency, the college greatly expanded. By the time of his retirement in 1989, there were 18 buildings on the Hattiesburg campus and eight on the Gulfport campus. Enrollment stood at 1,700 and academic programs had expanded to 11 degrees and 30 majors. He was also instrumental in achieving full accreditation for the college by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, a feat he accomplished at the end of his second year as president. In addition to establishing the Gulfport campus, Dr. Noonkester also established the New Orleans campus with the absorption of the Mather School of Nursing at Southern Baptist Hospital. The Gulfport campus, created from the old Gulf Coast Military Academy, was destroyed by Hurricane Katrina in 2005, and has since been relocated to the Tradition community in Biloxi. Dr. Noonkester was also responsible for the college's integration, signing the Civil Rights Compliance Pledge and thus allowing Carey to become the first private college in Mississippi to admit African-American students. This controversial decision led to uprisings from socio-political factions, but ultimately, Dr. Noonkester and William Carey College were recognized as leaders in the Civil Rights movement in the South for the bold step toward racial integration. Born in Flatridge, Va., on June 10, 1924, Dr. Noonkester received degrees from Marion College, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and the University of Richmond, with addition study at Harvard University. He served as minister of education at First Baptist Church in Charlottesville, Va., from 1950-1952 before his arrival to Carey. Dr. and Mrs. Noonkester are survived by their children, Dr. Myron C. Noonkester and Dr. Lila D. Noonkester. Dr. Myron Noonkester serves as dean of The Ralph and Naomi Noonkester School of Arts and Letters, which was named for the couple in 2007. At the time of his death, Dr. Noonkester was still active at Carey, serving as an adjunct professor of religion. Beloved by faculty, staff, and students he was often seen visiting campus.

Mrs. Mary Naomi Hopkins Noonkester was a dedicated homemaker and first lady of William Carey College (now University) for the 33 years her husband, the late Dr. Ralph Noonkester, served as president. During Dr. Noonkester's tenure as president, from 1956-1989, Mrs. Noonkester was active at Carey, attending numerous public events and serving as hostess for receptions and gatherings. She also held the position of Registrar at Mississippi Women's College in the early 1950s, during its transition to becoming William Carey College. Mrs. Noonkester graduated from Marion High School and from Marion College in Marion, Va., and earned a Bachelor of Sacred Music degree from Southern Seminary in Louisville, Ken., in 1950. After she and Dr. Noonkester married and later moved to Hattiesburg in 1952, she worked briefly for the Mississippi Central Railroad. Mrs. Noonkester was always devoted to her husband, his career, and their family, but she made many contributions in her own right. She was active in charitable organizations and a notable teacher for four-year olds in Sunday School at First Baptist Church in Hattiesburg for over 30 years.

C-Red Game Rally
October 3, 2012

In order to publically support the William Carey University's athletic department Carey instituted a C-Red campaign. C-Red encourages students, faculty and staff to wear red at Chapel during the academic year and at home games. The university's colors are red, black and white. At C-Red events throughout the year Carey recognized a group of military soldiers and the new marching band, the Spirit of Carey, performed the national anthem and played a medley of patriotic songs to honor the soldiers during their recognition.

December 13, 2012

The William Carey University Theatre present the original children's show, "WuKong, the Marvelous Legend of the Monkey King," by Christopher Permenter.

"WuKong" is a prequel to the Chinese legend of the Monkey King. It deals with finding courage within yourself, and addresses the issue of bullying. "It is a fun script," said Jim Matheny, director and chair of the WCU theatre and communication department. "It is full of humor and adventure as WuKong learns to find the courage he'll need to master Kung Fu and become the Monkey King." WuKong sets out on a quest to restore the sun which has been stolen by the evil Jung Shan. His adventure is filled with memorable characters, Kung Fu, and lots of laughs.

March 1, 2013

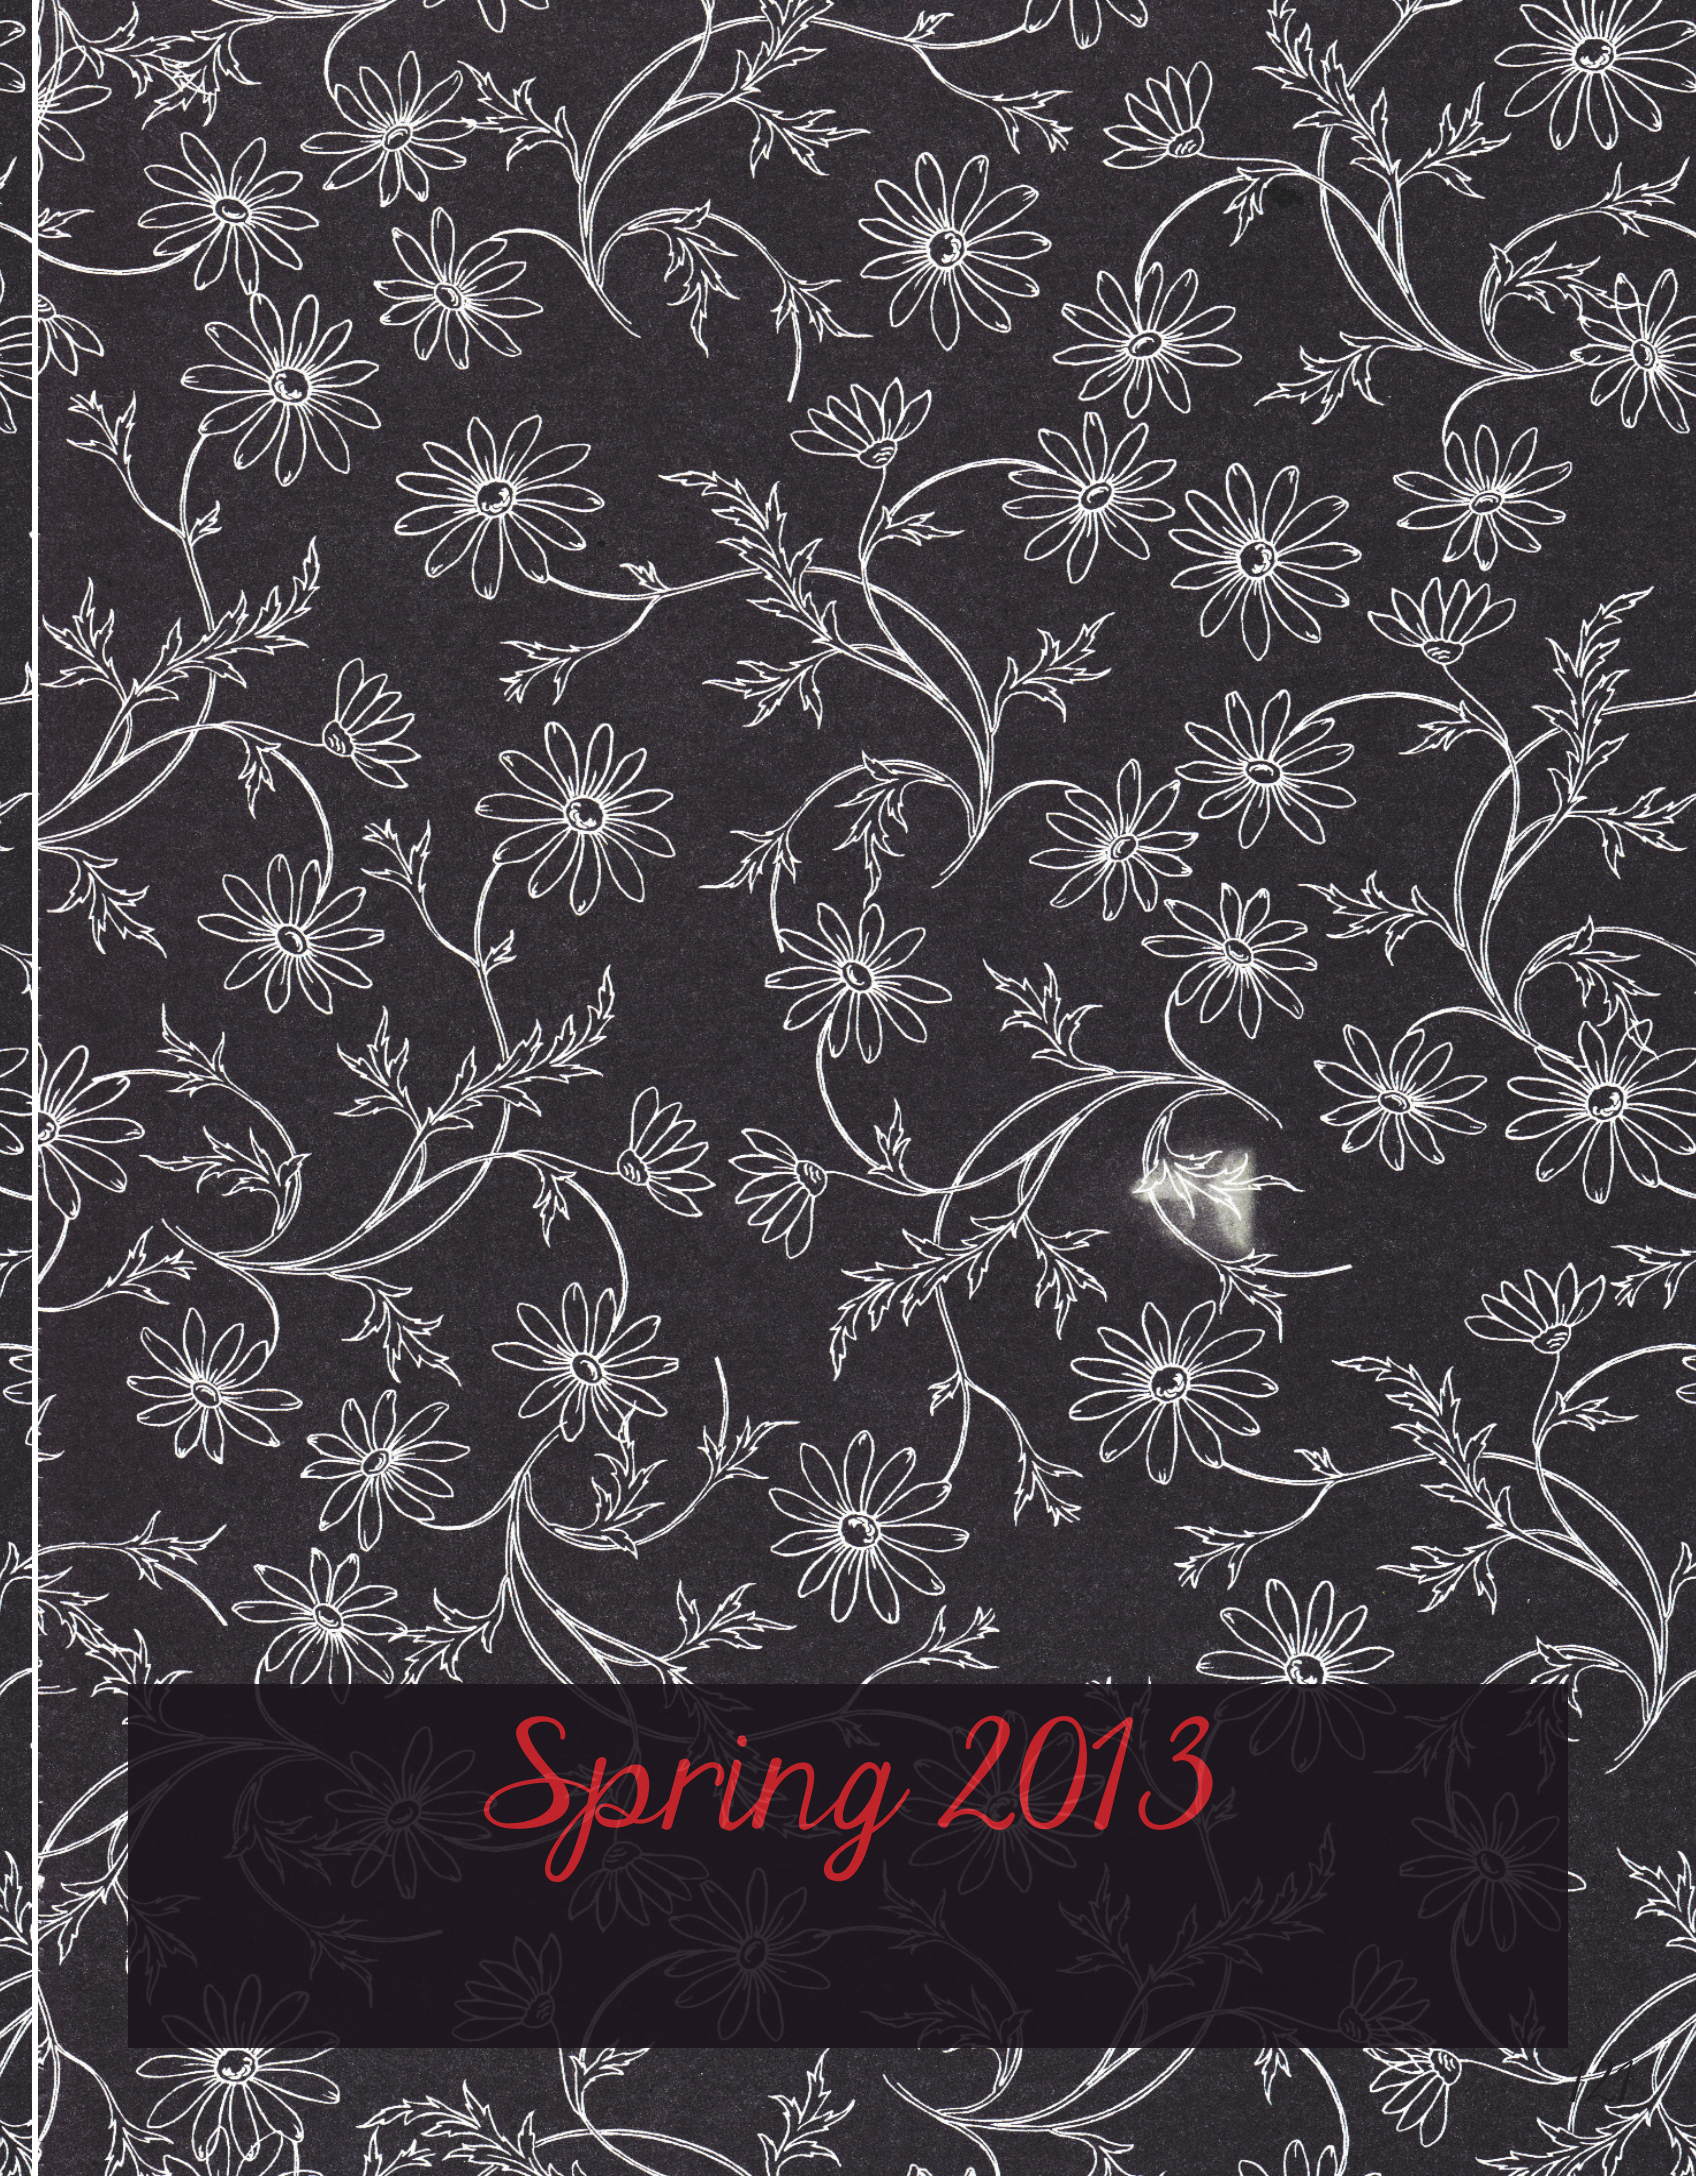
Hattiesburg, Miss., March 4, 2013 - William Carey University's School of Education hosted the eighth annual Young Authors Celebration (YAC) on Friday, March 1. First to eighth graders from area schools were invited with their teachers and parents to attend this program. Special guest speaker this year was Robert St. John, owner of the Purple Parrot Café and Crescent City Grill, and writes a weekly column and several cookbooks.

Almost 300 students from 7 schools participated in YAC. Participants included Columbia Academy, F.E. Johnson Elementary of Bassfield, New Hope Elementary of Collins, North Jones Elementary of Laurel, Oak Grove Primary of Hattiesburg, Purvis Upper Elementary, and The Dynamic Dyslexia Design School (The 3-D School) in Petal. The featured authors and illustrators were: Mr. Rick Anderson, Fleur Bradley, Kym Garraway, Dr. Ben Hornsby, Jenny Kemp, Jean Sauls, Barbara Tillery, and Diane Williams.



Spring 2013

Tartuffe
April 11, 2013

The William Carey University Theatre presented Moliere's comedy Tartuffe on April 11, 2013. Tartuffe is one of the classical theatre's greatest comedies, written by one whom most authorities conside to be France's greatest comic playwright. Moliere's play, set in 1660s, focuses on the hypocrisy of false religious virtue in its famous character Tartuffe. When Tartuffe was first performed in 1664 it was misinterpreted by leaders of the church, who thought that Moliere was making fun of religion, and performance of the play was prohibited. It wasn't until 1669 that the king allowed public performance again. In the centuries since, the work has become recognized as a condemnation of those who use religion for their own selfish purposes.
